NEWS RELEASE

Beaumont Partners with Care Solace to Provide No-Cost Coordination for Mental Health & Substance Use Services

For Immediate Release: December 10, 2025

Beaumont, CA — The City of Beaumont has partnered with Care Solace to help residents connect to mental health and substance use services, regardless of insurance coverage or income level. Through state funding provided by the California Opioid Settlement, this partnership allows residents to connect confidentially with licensed mental health and substance use treatment providers that match their needs and preferences including language and specialty.

Care Solace offers personalized assistance in areas such as:

- Locating nearby providers that accept new patients
- Navigating insurance plans
- Connecting with social services for housing/food assistance
- Calling and scheduling appointments

Services are offered in 200+ languages and remain available 24/7/365, ensuring inclusivity and accessibility for all. Residents can contact Care Solace for free by visiting caresolace.com/ca-beaumont or by calling (888) 515-7881.

"By improving access to local mental health care services, we are building a stronger and compassionate community," said Mayor Jessica Voigt. "These services will help ensure residents are connected to the support they need to live and thrive."

About Care Solace: Care Solace is revolutionizing mental health care access, advocating for ease, inclusiveness, and dignity in seeking community-based care. As a central hub of care, the organization bridges the gap between residents, first responders, justice systems, social agencies, and community-based mental health providers. Currently serving more than 1,000 organizations across the United States, Care Solace is proud to be a trusted ally for every person in need.
